

HAPPY BIRTHDAY KAADHU

Dear Kaadhu, I write this cause you literally asked me to. LOL I'm Joking. You shouldn't have told Cause I was planning to surprise you but now you'll be expecting so little get surprised for me. I am writing this cause there are some feelings that I cannot express or I am too shy to express directly to you. Don't mind my grammar or little mistakes I do while writing this. Don't correct this and send me marks and all. I will come to my point now, I know I will be blabbering something so SORRY :-).

First and Foremost HAPPY BIRTHDAY KAADHU ♥.

All these years I never knew that OCTOBER 11 will be the most Important day in my life. This day is so special, that will file petition to make this day National Day of an Angel, more like National Angel Day.

You born on this day and brought love and so much happiness to your parents, ME and everyone in your life.

You have so much Impact in people's lives without you realising. The day you born, you made your mom & Dad very happy, then you made the people around you happy, then you being in my life has impacted me so much, you don't realise how much I love you, I know I am not expressing it to you much, but always know that I LOVE YOU SO MUCH KAADHU. You are the best thing that happened in my life. I know you have gone through so much at a small age and somehow that time also you were thinking about other especially your mom and at the small age you were a big person. I know for a fact that your dad would have been so proud of the woman you have become today. I wish he was here to see his daughter enter her twenties, Just know and always remember that he is proud of you and he will always be proud of the woman you have become. Baby you deserve all the love in the world, I don't know if I can equal the love your dad gave you but I promise that I will make damn sure that I give my 100% love to you. You are and have been a strong woman who spoke out when she doesn't like something instead of keeping shut like everyone else. You be like this always no matter whoever tells you otherwise. Now I want to talk about the most Important person in your life, YOUR MOM.

Your mom is the one who has been with you all these years and has seen all your ups and downs, motivated you, cheered for you, supported you all these years. I know you had some difference of opinion with her but you love her so much, and she loves you so much, you are her world. And thanks to her I got you in my life. After us I have seen some things happened with your mom and I saw you hurt. From now on whatever your mom say you tell ok, I know you won't do but still I am telling. I don't know many things about your childhood and I hope I will get to know it soon. But whenever you are upset with your mom take a look at your favourite picture with your mom it will for sure help. Just know she loves you so much and you are her world. I wanted to tell you this cause you are no more a teenager, you are stepping into next part of your life, whatever happens just talk to your mom and me. We are always there for you.

There has been many other people who loved you like your grandfather, grandmother, Deika aunty. All these people blessings will always be there for you. Know that they are so happy for the woman you turned out to be. At an very young age you had to go through many losses and no one should have gone through it. My baby you are so strong that after all the things you have gone through you are still spreading love, caring about people, you are kind to people even if you tell no. All the love that you missed in your childhood, I will love you more, so be ready to receive all the love hehehe. You have surrounded yourself with a very good set of people like Nivita, prathana and devasi even though little I don't like devasi but she is a good one. I am happy that you have these people in your life. Also a brother like bhairam and a sister like madhu who will always support and cheer for you. Know there are actually many people who are there for you than you think.

Now I want to talk about my kaadhu, no more a teenager. I mean when you think about it, really it has been a Journey for you. Man, I Love you so much di. You are so beautiful with that big nose, beautiful eyes, so little lips, your cute kaadhu, I mean you are so beautiful that I wanna sign you up in miss Universe and make you win, cause you are the most beautiful girl in the whole world, you are too lazy to sign up for heat gubbal. You are the most empathetic person for the people you care about, I have seen it so many times. You always check up on people and somehow you have that power to make people talk to you. So crazy di after so much happened that day still you came to talk to me cause I was alone in the room that told me so much about you. I mean you tell that you are non-chalant, won't care and all but deep down you are a pure soul and I know you will be like that always.

We have been together for almost 8 months now and I realised you are the kind of woman I want to be with, you are the woman I want to spend my life together with. I know you are an overthinker, but I can understand why you are like that, all your childhood you were expected to be correct and there were no room for mistake, that made you think through every decision, and I can live with it. You overthink and I will be there for you to overexplain stuff. So many memories we had all these months, the laughs, the fights, the cries, we have seen many things but not everything. All these has made me feel closer to you, cause everytime we fight at the end I realise how lucky I am to get to be with a mature girl like you. You convey your emotions so clearly, and that has helped me a lot on how I should make you feel more loved. Everyday when I wake up I feel so lucky that you are my girlfriend. I sometimes wanna get us married and be with you always. I want to come back from work and talk about my day and ask about your day. I want to wake up next to you and tell good morning face to face, smell you, kiss you and give coffee. I want to treat you like a princess everyday. It will happen but little time it takes. I know that for sure you are the one I want to spend my rest of the life together. As I write this letter we are fighting about a thing and we both said words but I damn sure know that we will solve this in an instant. That is what I like about you, you have never made it hard to have a difficult conversation, we face the problem instead of ignoring to keep the peace. We should always think that it is US against the problem. I know that you have many insecurities, things you are scared of, for all these things you are scared of I will always be there for you baby, I will make sure that I will make all your insecurities go away. Baby I LOVE YOU SO MUCH DI.

I wish that you could see yourself through my eyes. Everyday makes me wonder how I got so lucky to have such a beautiful, kind, caring human in my life that too as my girlfriend. I Love you di kaadhu, I love you so so so much di, I wish I can physically show the amount of love I have for you. This birthday should be a special one for you because you got a boyfriend like me hehehe. I'm Joking. I will make sure every birthday from now on will be so special for you. I am so sorry that I could not be there with you and I feel so sad that I could not spend the day with you. I hope this makes it up for my absence also I will bring plenty of gifts for my kaadhu from Vietnam. I hope you enjoy today and have as much as fun as possible. I LOVE YOU SO MUCH KAADHU MA, I will never stop loving you. Just eat nicely, enjoy your time in Varkala, Be safe. Now little advice time as you are not a teenager anymore. So there are some things I want to tell.

Now you are stepping into the next phase of your life, this twenties is what will define your rest of the life. I already told that what I love about you is that you are clear about what you want to do. I know that you want to do your masters and you want to leave India and settle in Singapore. Whatever decision you take me and your mom will hundred percent be with you. So never, I mean never doubt yourself. You are the most brilliant, bold woman I know, so whatever you do never doubt yourself. There will be many problems that you would have to face be it academic, personal, relationship wise, always go with your gut instinct. Never give up without trying and I know you won't give up easily on anything. Just focus on what is important, don't give in to the noises on the way. Always remember whatever happens, come running to me I will always be there for you. I know too much boomer advice I am giving, but it's okay, for my kaadhu only no.
